

Have You Heard?

by Dorothy McCain Eلسenius

It seems that when people get set to reading the Albany Times they don't want to miss it. Case in point—Mr. and Mrs. James C. Hall, 17-year Albany residents, parents of Gary Hall of Antioch and the former Judith Hall of Albany, now Mrs. Michael Merz of Richmond. The Halls have been living temporarily in an apartment in nearby El Cerrito, and faithfully visit Albany every Wednesday to pick up a Times. They visited the Times office last week to say they are moving to Nevada and wanted to subscribe to the paper and keep track of the town and their old friends.

William E. "Bill" Berk called to thank all his fellow members of Ward 2 for re-electing him as BART representative. Ward 2 covers the East Bay area from Emeryville to Richmond. He said to be sure and contact him if you have any questions (?) concerning BART, which he hopes will soon be "the best ever."

Ken and Fay Ridley spent their wedding anniversary on Saturday, Nov. 11, watching a football game. Which, in itself, isn't all that surprising, as they spent their wedding day, Nov. 11, 1949, in front of a TV watching the Stanford "Big Game."

However, this year they watched their son Shaun (a 1971 Albany High grad) set a record in a game against Diablo Valley College, by running 95 yards on a option play, to score a touchdown for Albany College, breaking the record of 84 yards set by San Diego Charger Leon Burns, when he attended Laney College in 1967.

Shaun got his start in football playing Pop Warner football as member of the El Cerrito Bengals. He is the only player from Albany on the Laney College team, since Jon Etingoff suffered a broken leg in a recent game.

Albany Youth Walk Dec. 4 To Aid March of Dimes; Sponsors Needed

Albany youngsters—and older folk too—will join an expected 3,000 others from Berkeley, Piedmont and Oakland on Sunday, Dec. 4, in the Four City Walkathon to raise funds for the Alameda County Chapter National Foundation's March of Dimes, according to Harold Van Coops, chairman of the Albany campaign.

Sponsors who will back up the young walkers by pledging a minimum of 10 cents a mile for each mile his walker covers, are badly needed, says Mr. Van Coops.

The Walkathon will begin and end at Laney College, Oakland, with members of the National Guard stationed at 10 different check points en route to stamp walk cards. Half-way point for the Walkathon is Live Oak Park in Berkeley, where walkers will eat their bag lunches. Orange drinks will be provided by McDonald's. Walkers may start any time between 8 a.m. and 10 a.m. and all walkers are expected to be in before 5 p.m., according to March of Dimes officials.

Celebrities

Cheering the walkers on and making the 20 mile route themselves, will be Ben Davidson of the Oakland Raiders and Stan Dunn of K-101 Radio. Also on hand will be Poster Boy Marty Mim Mack. The Grizzly Peak Radio Club will handle communications between checkpoints and the California Podiatry Association will station one podiatrist at each stop.

Albany school children have, in past weeks, seen the March of Dimes presentation, including two movies, one about the March of Dimes Marty Mim Mack, born without arms—and how he has adapted to his handicap, and one on the Walkathon itself.

Other civic dignitaries assisting the Walkathon in addition to Harold Van Coops are Piedmont vice-mayor Arthur Flegal, official chairman, and San Leandro City Councilman Al Nahm, who has promised to stand by with his silver Rolls Royce to pick up the too-weary. Walkers are urged to wear sturdy walking shoes and comfortable socks and carry a bag lunch, according to Mr. Van Coops.

Sign-Up

Sheets for signing up sponsors may be obtained by calling 836-2267, March of Dimes headquarters in Oakland.

All contributions go to assist the work of the National Foundation to discover, treat, locate and solve the problems caused by birth defects.

Tree Festival Opens Dec. 1

Tiny decorated trees and centerpieces which can be used year after year will be displayed for sale in profusion at the 22nd Annual Festival of Christmas Trees, Dec. 1 through 6, 10 a.m. to 10 p.m., Hotel Claremont, Berkeley.

The popular event is staged for the benefit of Children's Hospital Medical Center by its 63 Auxiliary Branches.

Those wishing to attend the Sponsors' Preview Thursday, Nov. 30, for a first glimpse (and chance to buy) of the "forest" of over 200 beauties, may buy tickets at $3 from 6 p.m. to midnight. The price includes one complimentary cocktail.

Admission for the six-day public showing is $1 (25 cents for children under 12).

The event, which annually earns thousands of dollars for the hospital, is made possible through the donations of festooned trees, decorative pieces and wall hangings from artistic Branch members, as well as individuals, schools and organizations outside the hospital "family."

LIBRARY FILM

Tonight's film program to be presented free at the Albany Library at 7 p.m., will include "Winter of the Witch" and "The Great Toy Robbery." Seating is limited. Call the Library, 526-3720 for more information.

Breathing Classes Are Now Enrolling

Albany residents who suffer from emphysema or other respiratory disease are invited to attend adult breathing improvement classes sponsored by the Christmas Seal Association of Alameda County and held at Providence Hospital in Oakland.

Classes are designed to allow patients to share similar problems and feelings while learning more efficient breathing patterns and techniques.

Classes of no more than six or seven persons each are now forming. The fee is $20 for a series of four classes. The fee is waived in cases of financial need, according to Colin Sinclair, president-elect of the TB Association.

For further information and physician referral forms, call the TB and Health Association at 893-5454.

Young Albany Publisher To Be High School News Chief

Albany High School students are concerned about both their elders' lack of interest in government—and their juniors' experimentation with smoking and littering.

That's the news in part from Albany High's newly named news bureau chief, Steven R. Kam, son of the Peter Kams of Albany, and also president and co-owner of Pro Wrestling Productions, a 16-page wrestling publication which puts out "Action Weekly," distributed in Northern California, Las Vegas and Reno. The wrestling paper grew from an eight page dittoed program handed out May 18, 1971, at the Richmond Auditorium wrestling matches by Steve and his crew.

Expansion

Now in his senior year at Albany High, Steve is not only expanding further publishing territory for his paper in Southern California, but also has ambitious plans for development of the Albany High School news bureau, which was set up last year by Miss Carol Schreffel to assist outside publications inquiring about Albany High School matters. Steve hopes to issue press releases regularly to local newspapers and will make his debut as columnist covering Albany High for the Albany Times in these pages next week.

As for the current student mood at Albany High, Steve answered a question as to apathy with elections both in and out of school, with the comment that students did not find their efforts during the recent national election worthwhile because of "very little interest on the part of the public when we went door-to-door." And he further quoted another Albany High student, Claudia Naussin, that "you can't educate ignorant people." However, Steve added, "I think in 1976 we'll go out again."

Merger Effect

As for Albany High School students' concern with younger students' behavior, Steve says that smoking and littering of the school yard, is, unfortunately, experimental in nature, and caused by the merging of the fifth, sixth, and seventh grades with older students. "They want to know what it's like," says Steve, "when they see some of the older students doing it."

Steve reported that the new class at Albany High in "Directed Studies," in which students develop their own course of study in the science department, with instructor guidance, is proving most popular. The pilot course is headed by Don DePasquale of Albany High's faculty.

On the "sports page," the new news bureau chief further confirmed the report that there is to be no swim team this year at Albany High. Since the consolidation of Cornell and Marin Schools, Albany High joined the new League, and it was the consensus that the present swim team would be "outclassed."

And that's thirty for the Albany High School news this week, but there'll be more under Steve's by-line next week.

OLE! MAKE A PINATA!

"Making a Pinata," the movie to be shown in the Children's Room of the Albany Library Saturday, Dec. 2, will be followed by actual practice in the craft afterwards. Creators will take their wet papier mache forms home to dry and decorate and next Saturday, Dec. 9, decorated pinatas will be brought to the library and put on display for a week. Families are especially invited to attend together. For more information, call 525-3720.

Council To Ask School Election For Bonds; Earmarks Sewer Funds

Albany City Councilmen Monday night agreed to ask the School Board for a special election resubmitting the school bond issue to the electorate, and paved the way further by suggesting that the University of California be asked to provide the Gill Tract on Buchanan Street, for needed school land space.

Councilman Clark made the motion asking for the request to the School Board, with Councilman Call, who made the motion, pointed out that if the city followed guide lines of the recent sewer survey, correcting drainage problems from homes causing overflow, the cost would be almost $600,000. Added Mayor Carlevaro, "Since we're one of the few cities, as I understand it, with a comprehensive sewer survey, we can program our revenue dollars to take care of our deficiencies and save the city a half million dollars."

A unanimous "aye" vote was also given to the future earmarking of revenue sharing funds to take care of deficiencies in the city's sewer system. Councilman Call, who made the motion, pointed out that if the city followed guide lines of the recent sewer survey, correcting drainage problems from homes causing overflow, the cost would be almost $600,000. Added Mayor Carlevaro, "Since we're one of the few cities, as I understand it, with a comprehensive sewer survey, we can program our revenue dollars to take care of our deficiencies and save the city a half million dollars."

Requests To Council

Replying to communications received, the Council referred an application for alcoholic beverage license from Mary D. Stone for an on-sale beer and wine license at the "Bacchanal," 1369 Solano Avenue, to the Chief of Police for recommendation, and referred a request from Mrs. Roy Williamson, 520 Curtis Street, for the cutting of tree foliage on city property, to the Administrative Officer.

The Council also heard reports read from Ralph Jensen, Chief of Police, regarding the one bid received for patrol cars (East Bay Chevrolet), and from James B. Turner, Administrative Officer, regarding bids for traffic control vehicle and police van. Elder & Company was the low bidder of three received. Councilmen recommended both bids

Carolers Ask For Requests

Caroling, anyone? Albany residents, especially including shut-ins, who would like to hear the strains of their favorite carols sung at their door in the old-fashioned way, may request a visit from caroling members of Albany Girl Scouts, Vista Troop 628 on the evening of Dec. 7.

A visit by the carolers may be arranged for any time between 6 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. by calling 527-2449. A fellowship hour for all participating Girl Scouts will take place afterwards.

AFS Fund Drive On

Donors to the second annual fund drive of the Albany chapter of American Field Service will receive receipts entitling them to the opportunity to win a prize on Dec. 18.

The fund raising project, now being conducted by the adult committee of the chapter, supplements the pancake breakfast held each spring. Proceeds of both events enable Albany students to visit foreign countries as well as allowing Albany to host students from other countries.

In charge of the donor drive are Mrs. Si Gershenson and Mrs. Lee Keck.

PLAY TRYOUTS

Squirrel Hill Theatre is announcing open casting for Harold Pinter's comedy-drama, "The Caretaker." There are parts for three men—the "old bum" and two brothers. Try-outs will be held Tuesday and Wednesday, Dec. 5 and 6 at 8 p.m., in the Fellowship Hall of the First Unitarian Church of Berkeley, 1 Lawson Road. The play is scheduled to open January 26, and will be directed in arena by Emily Thayer. For more information call the director evenings at 763-0572.

MARITIME CAREERS

be accepted. A request for consideration of additional remuneration for crossing guards was referred by Mayor Carlevaro for a hearing by Councilmen Hein and Howell, the Fire and Police Chiefs and the Administrative Officer, with guards.

Approvals Given

Resolution No. 72-87, "a resolution establishing stop signs on Madison Street and Adams Street at the intersection of Castro Street in Albany," was approved by Council, subject to payment of claims. Resolution No. 72-88 approving the agreement establishing a joint solid waste committee also received approval.

At a second reading of Ordinance No. 72-017, the ordinance amending the city's zoning ordinance No. 61-011, Councilman Call requested "clarification" of Section No. 21 referring to "private permanent open space." Councilman Clark dissented.

Surprise Ending

In a surprise ending to Monday's Council session, attorney Herb Rubin appeared before the Council to read a letter in which he gave qualified support to the development of Albany Hill by Interstate General Corporation subject to four provisions regarding open space: 1) that matching State and Federal open space grants be applied for to augment the $600,000 which Interstate General is giving the city under terms of the agreement; 2) that all negotiations for the purchase of open space lands be made public, i.e. names of owners as of the date of Interstate's November, 1972, proposal, identified by parcel, along with acquisition costs and tax payments to date; 3) that the City, preferably through a citizens' committee, negotiate for the purchase of all open space lands at no profit to the land owners, that any profit taking be publicly negotiated and a matter of public record; and finally that the use permit approved by Council November 20 be clarified to ascertain that the public will have access to open space mentioned—the perpetual open space easement to be effective upon granting the use permit, and that the deed restrictions to that effect be made and recorded at the time the Use Permit becomes effective.

Councilmen were each supplied with a copy of Mr. Rubin's letter and decided before adjournment, to give the matter further study.

(The views expressed in the following letters are those of the individual writers, and do not reflect, in any way, those of this newspaper.)

Editor, the Times:

I hope you will excuse the informality of this note, but we need the help of you and your readers to publicize "Jobs For Youth," a very important and effective youth employment program in Berkeley, affecting Albany.

Lack of employment opportunities is a problem which is afflicting communities throughout the Bay Area. In particular this dearth of jobs is hard felt by young people. Hundreds of potential young workers are frustrated to find themselves unable to find work.

One of the success stories in alleviating the youth employment problem is the Jobs For Youth project which services all East Bay communities. Jobs For Youth is unique in that it is designed to relate directly to the needs of local businesses and residents. The workers are Berkeley and Albany young people aged 13-21. They are prepared, under supervision to do a wide range of jobs—such as yard work, office work, home improvement and minor repair operations and such personal services as reading to elderly people and child care, to name only a few. Potential employees are screened for skill and experience.

With a resource file of over 300 applicants, ability to do the job responsibly is the sole criterion of government placement. A staff of experienced and capable personnel, trained in a variety of skills, mans the project, assuring success for the employer as well as the employee by regular follow-up assignments.

During the summer of 1972, 425 young people were provided with meaningful work experiences. A second Rosenberg grant has been secured, which makes it possible to operate year round and take new directions in job development.

One such direction is on-the-job training of young people with skilled tradesmen. Skilled craftsmen are available who will train youngsters as they do the job. Landscaping, carpentry and painting are among some of these skills.

As coordinator for Jobs For Youth, I can truthfully say there is hardly an Albany home or place of business that could not profitably use at least a day or two of help. This is an earnest request for support for this constructive program for youth from homeowners and businessmen, as well as local church and civic groups.

Jobs For Youth is located in the main campus of Berkeley High School, 2246 Milvia, Room G-102A. We are open Monday through Friday, 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Saturday 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Please call the project office at 548-4295 for any questions you may have. Your help is central to our success in placing young people in meaningful and rewarding employment. Will you help?

ALBANY POST 292 presents THE VETERAN'S CORNER by Chas. Lindh

The first Convention of The American Legion was held in Minneapolis in 1919. There it was decided that the first and the most pressing obligation of The American Legion was the care of the sick and disabled veteran.

For several years all the service work to hospitalized veterans was performed by volunteers from various Legion Posts and Units of the American Legion Auxiliary. In 1946 the Veterans Administration, recognizing the value of this service and the need for continued efforts, organized the Veterans Administration Voluntary Services (VAVS) program and The American Legion and the American Legion Auxiliary are among the founding organizations of the VAVS. The American Legion gives full support to the American Legion Auxiliary and is placing special emphasis on encouraging Legionnaires to assume their rightful responsibility and place in this work.

Through the efforts of various organizations many teenagers are participating as volunteers in the VA hospitals. They have demonstrated that they adapt quickly and easily. Their services are becoming more important because of what they do willingly and well. They contribute greatly to the patients' morale and well being.

How can a person without any special training help? There are many ways you can assist, such as visit VA hospitals, make bedside visitations. Many Legion Posts put on monthly bingo parties. They need help. The most outstanding activity at this time is the one put on by the Veterans Hospitals Christmas Committee. They decorate wards and dining rooms at the Livermore VA and the Oakland Naval hospitals, furnish entertainment and a Christmas present for each patient. The Martinez VA hospital is included in that program this year, we understand—if not they will most likely have their own committee. If you feel like donating to the Veterans Hospitals Christmas Committee please send your contributions to 444 East 14th St., Oakland, Ca. They will appreciate it.

The loneliest person I know is a lonely patient in a hospital spending Christmas far away from family and friends. If you know such a person spend Christmas with him or her. It will benefit both of you.
